The Inquirer December 2017

From the Principal's desk

Dear Parents,
With every New Year comes a renewed hope,
optimism, dreams and resolutions; brighter smiles and a spring in our steps; and of course a promise of a better tomorrow.

Wishing you and your family a year filled with that and much more.

Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!

Looking Ahead...

Rashmi Nagendra

The background of the slide is a winter night scene. It features a large, bright full moon in the upper left corner, casting a glow over a landscape of rolling, snow-covered hills. Several evergreen trees are scattered across the hills, some in the foreground and some in the distance. The sky is a deep blue-purple, dotted with small white stars. The entire scene is framed by a decorative border consisting of a repeating pattern of small, colorful diamond shapes in shades of blue, green, yellow, and red.

Editor's Note.....

The month of December is in fact a party season!!! With the advent of chilly and cool atmosphere comes the Christmassy feel in the air. The celebratory ho-ho-ho events along with our inculcated attitude of Gratitude; from all that happened during our Reading Day to a memorable field trip to our teachers' Wow moments; it was a month of Rock and Roll bringing in a feel good sense in all of us. Here's wishing you a Merry Christmas and a satisfying New Year and loads of fun!!!!

Until then, Happy Reading!!!

This is what keeps us going....

Every day at school we see children learn and complete new challenges. It is so good to see them achieving something through their hard work and persistence.

During many fleeting moments of the school day, when principal Rashmi Ma'am and Nita ma'am stepped into the classes for a story read aloud, it was the WOW moment worth watching. The surprised look on their faces having Principal Ma'am in their class was filled with an element of joy and excitement both.

Children asked lots of questions that revealed their interest in language-how it works and why it looks and sounds the way it does. The excitement reached to its peak when the class was gifted a Christmas tree for decoration.

It was an amazing moment for all the classes to share this experience.

Reading day.....

Children tap their imagination when being read out a story. Indeed they are learning to grasp the techniques of reading by listening to others reading out to them. This month our dear principal Ms. Rashmi and Ms. Nita surprised our kids with a cozy reading session right in their classroom.

By Reading to our children....we open the Doorway to Writing!!

A close-up photograph of a Christmas tree branch. The tree is dark green and densely packed with needles. It is decorated with several gold-colored spherical ornaments of varying sizes. Interspersed among the branches are gold-colored snowflake ornaments. A wide, red ribbon with a gold floral pattern is draped across the tree. The background is a soft, out-of-focus bokeh of warm, golden light.

Christmas party!!

It was a cold winter day when our children and teachers got together to celebrate the joyous Christmas party dressed in the festive colors of the season – red, white and green!! Fun, excitement and happiness were experienced by everyone here at Ambassador. Children were mesmerized to see our dear Santa Claus and the treats. A fun filled day to remember!!

This is what keeps us going....

“It’s time again! A time to reflect on what has been a wonderful and memorable journey this past year. I am thankful to be a teacher. It has been a privilege to share my learning at this first rung of the learning ladder with little people who will at some time be future leaders. At the same time there is much that I myself have learnt from them. How my work has inspired my students and how certain things spoken by them have taken me by amazement!

Every year I come across children who are intelligent, however, at times some special ones will hold my gaze and make me astonished at the thought process of a four year old!

Let me take you through an anecdote on particular one who was trying to put apple pieces through a bottle of plain water. When asked as to why he was doing that, he said it was to give some flavor to the water that he was drinking! This, and many more wonderful experiences have given me an insight into the minds of these little geniuses.

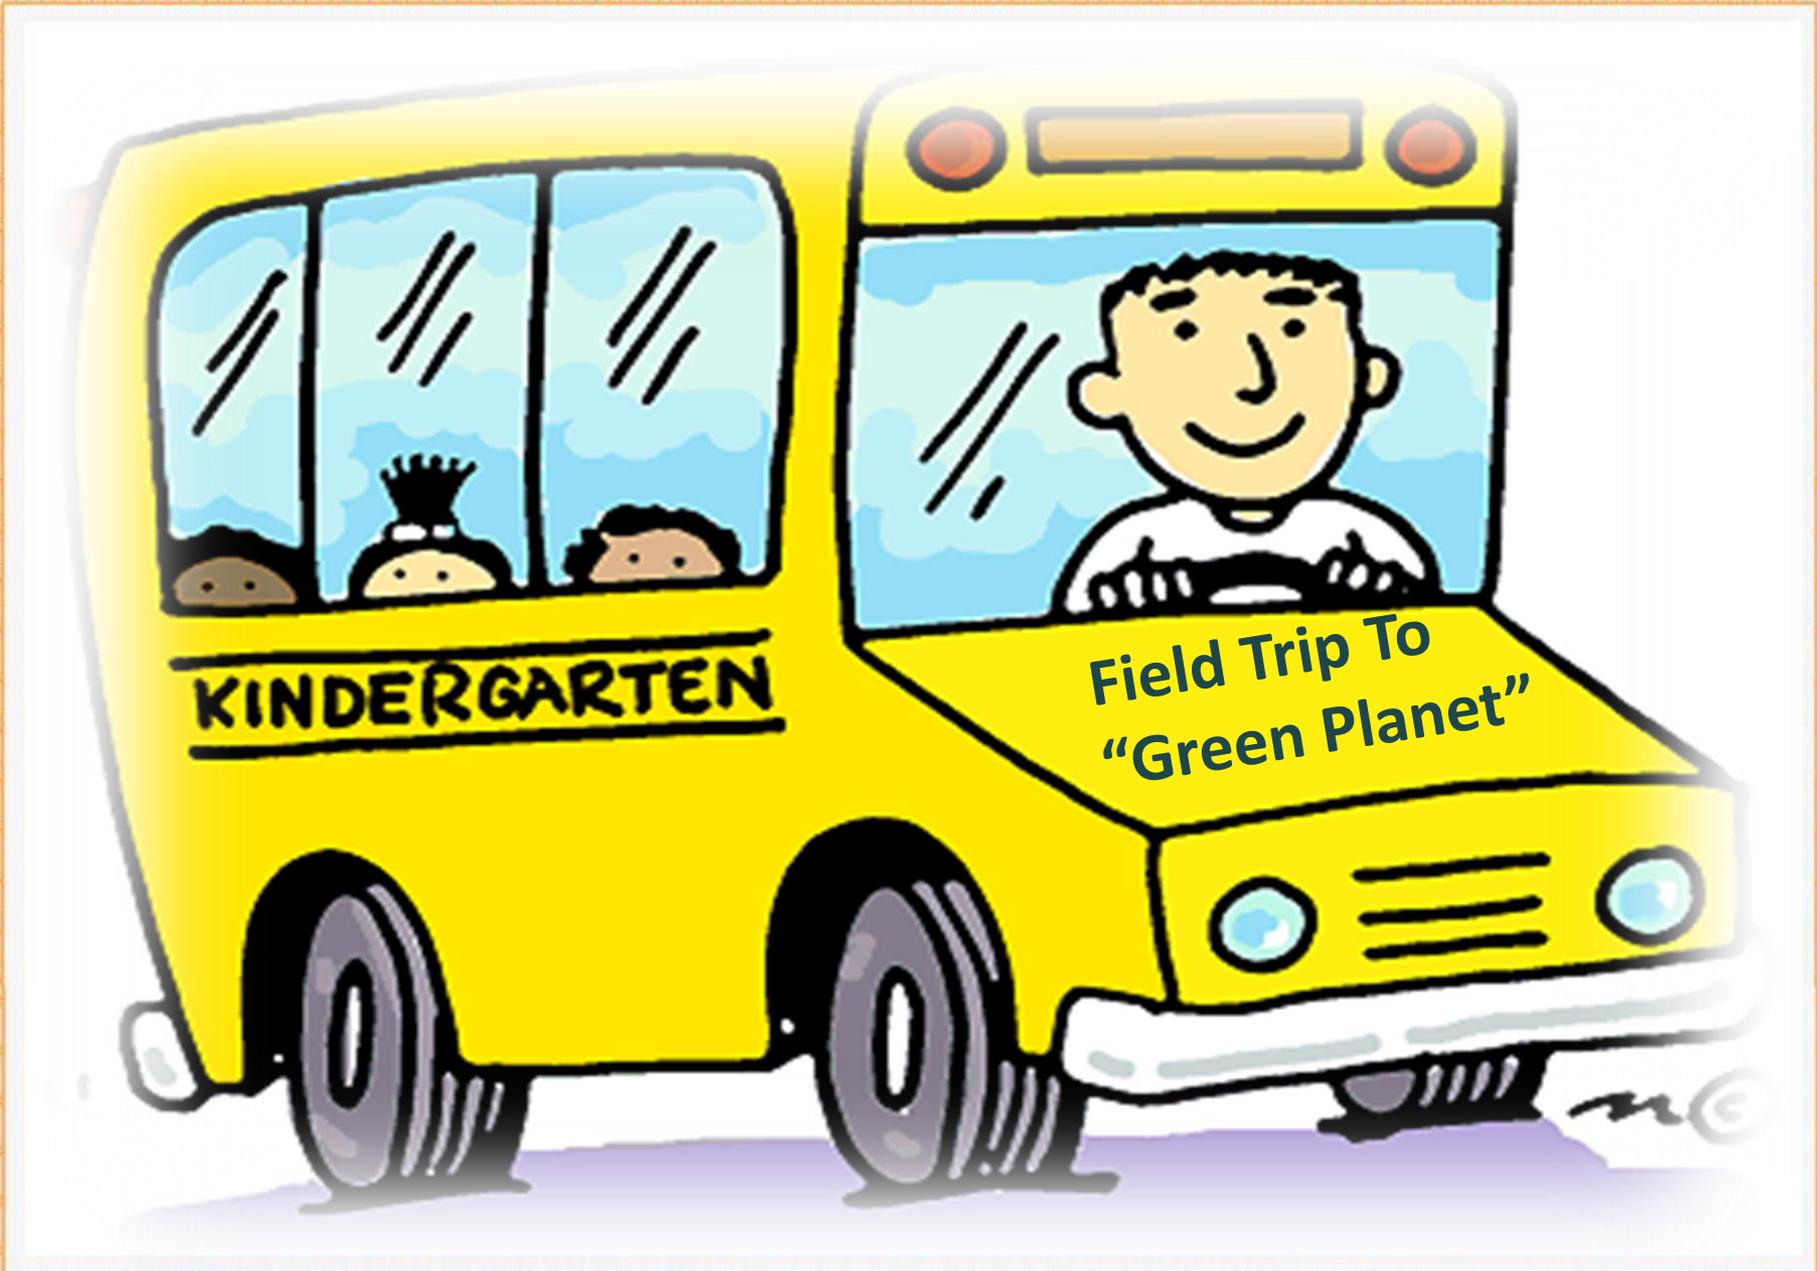

It is with pride that I walk into my class and don’t have to get tensed about a lesson. I KNOW that someone will always be above that lesson and I will be that child’s happiest teacher.”

Field Trip To
"Green Planet"

Field Trip...

It was time to Explore and interact with a whole new world of exotic flora and fauna in this tropical forest. Children got a firsthand experience of the natural environment of a rainforest with its regulating temperature and humidity levels and its home to an impressive assortment of living species. They saw birds flying freely, pythons, ants, spiders, turtle and a variety of fishes, just to name a few, in its natural environment. It was indeed a wonderful sensory experience.

Attitude of Gratitude

As John F Kennedy rightly said “We must find time to stop and thank the people who make a difference in our lives”, We at Ambassador Kindergarten don’t wait for a reason to do so. Expressing our gratitude through words, writing, and small gifts or acts of reciprocity are all ways we teach children how to become grateful. This being the month of joy, love and happiness, our children got the opportunity to thank the ancillary staff without whom the smooth functioning of our school is next to impossible.

Pajama Movie Day !!

It was a fun filled and enriching day at AKG when our kindergarten 1 children were dressed up in their pajamas to watch a movie together with their friends. Watching 'Finding Nemo' while munching popcorns and understanding All about the world that exists under the Sea- that we should never give up and be optimistic!!! We learnt it all!!
