“The good man is the friend of all living things”

- Mahatma Gandhi

Editor's Note.....

Conclusion of Term 1 and the holy month of Ramadan have enhanced our perception and understanding to bring us all together in new light! We take a moment to wish each and all - 'Eid Mubarak!' Our agenda is happiness - that all-important, smiley-faced quotient we desperately seek in our little ones who have chosen to put others - with no narrow-minded agenda before themselves. They're happy! From the attitude of gratitude to being an environmentalist, our sizzling June had it all.....

With the summer holidays rolling out, many of us may remember a time when summer holidays were filled with 'Wow!nothing to do' - endless days of playing down the street, in neighbors' yards, at beaches or even just spent playing by yourself and Nowa series of playdates with one or two friends, a variety of holiday programs strung together, or perhaps a heap of screen-time spent in air-conditioned comfort? Let's explore ways in which our kids can enjoy some 'unstructured' outdoor play with other kids that we ourselves have enjoyed when we were young!

Wish you allHAPPY HOLIDAYS!

Children want the same things we want.
To laugh, to be challenged,
to be entertained,
and delighted.

— Dr. Seuss

A word from our Principal...

Dear Parents,

It is that part of the year when most of us are visiting our home country/ exploring a new place with our family and friends/ taking a staycation at our homes and exploring the various adventures that Dubai has to offer. With no rushing up to the school buses/ packing bags/ getting reluctant little ones on their toes, there is so much that we plan for and look forward to a relaxed and happy time during these summer vacations.

But parents, don't you think that even in our busy schedule, there are so many moments of happiness that flows through us. All that we need to do is pause and acknowledge that. So this holiday, we would like you to recognize those instances of happiness, however small it may be and record 'All those things that make me happy!' and put a smile on yours and your child's face. It could be through photos or in words; you could have a scrap book or a chart. You could record it in any way that you feel is relevant.

Through this simple exercise let us celebrate all those small moments of joy which adds to a larger feeling of happiness.

Looking Ahead...

With best regards,
Rashmi Nagendra

World Environment Day

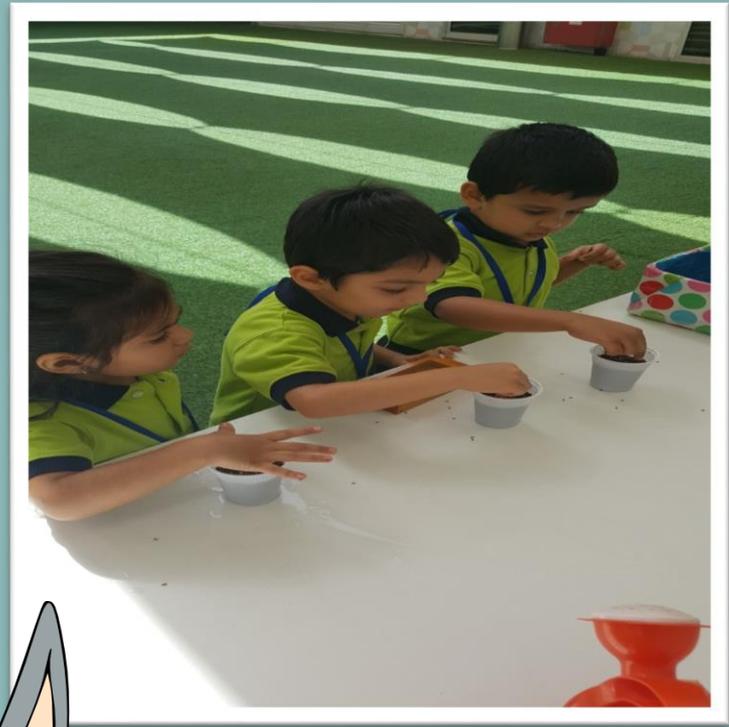

Ambassador Nursery celebrated World Environment Day on 5th June, 2017. "Connecting People to Nature" is the theme for World Environment Day 2017. Children learnt the importance of planting trees and taking care of the environment. It was a fun and exciting experience for the kids.

Rainbow Day

When teaching colors to our kids, we offer plenty of exposures in a variety of ways. At Ambassador Nursery, hands-on exploration is always on the go. Rainbow Day was held to culminate child's learning about colors. Brush painting, palm and finger printing, parachute play, touch the color game were some of the many activities children had done to enjoy the day. They made their own rainbow fish as a give away of the day.

The ability to identify colors is considered a marker and milestone in a child's cognitive process. We are so proud of our little ones. They have done a wonderful job!

'Shukran' - Attitude of Gratitude

What gives us happiness is perhaps the most overplayed question to be asked. For most of us, happiness fixes are like shifting sands - they keep changing. Our children, however, have found happiness etched in stone because they are happy enough in making others happy. Their contributions have been offered at a nearby mosque to help the people in our community. Indeed,

Deeds of Giving are the very foundations of the world...

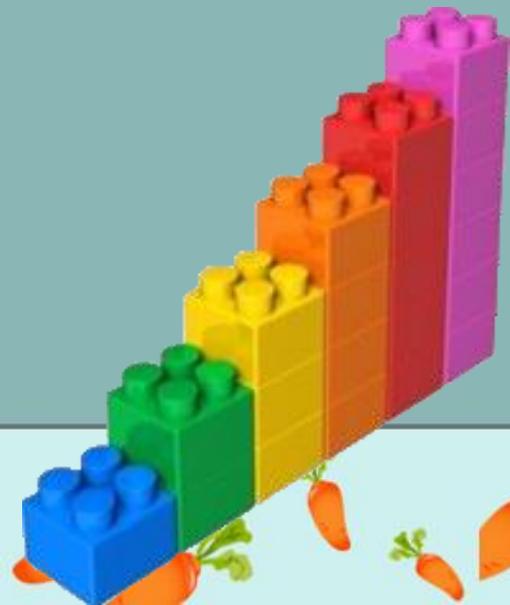

Build a better Tomorrow

There is no harm in dreaming and with this optimism; we have Dreams and Aspirations to build our city with immense love, happiness and faith, a green city with no hatred and violence but only peace and harmony for our next generation to look upon. Our children are doing their bit by giving to the mankind and at the same time using their creative skills building towards a better tomorrow using Lego bricks. The donations are used for the underprivileged through Dubai Cares.

Way to go... children!
Tomorrow is definitely ours.....!

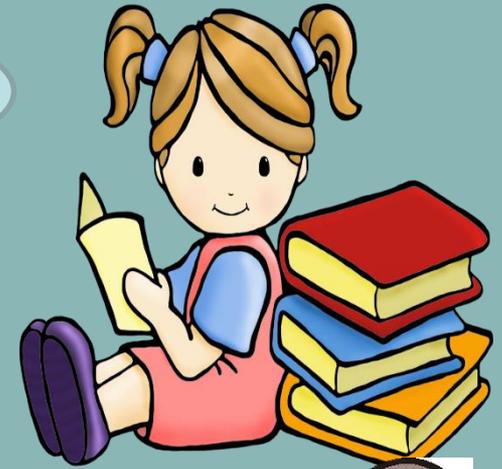

Reading day

Reading gives us 'Someplace' to go when we have to 'Stay' where we are!!! It develops our mind and imagination and helps us discover new things. Our children who now read books will evolve into intellectual adults who will imbibe the joys of reading newspapers, magazines, novels, etc. Our Reading Day was celebrated by our teachers reading to their children in Kindergarten 1 while few students from each class read for their classmates in Kindergarten 2. Wow!!!

We All Love Reading.....

World Environment Day

On account of June 5 as the World Environment Day, we focused on reusing products made out of recycled materials. Our children are well aware of recycling paper which in turn conserves natural resources, saves energy, reduces greenhouse gas emissions and keeps landfill space free for other types of trash that can't be recycled hence they created newspaper bags at home using their creative and unique skills and proudly brought to school.

Reduce....Reuse....Recycle.....

Father's Day

Celebrating Father's Day, an extremely important day to acknowledge the contribution of fathers to families and to societies as large. Observance of Father's Day provided our children an opportunity to express love and respect for their fathers by creating a beautiful card as a memorable keepsake!!
